Three-fourths of the word 'Scouting' is 'outing'. The highlight of Scouting's outdoor program is a fun summer camp experience. But, summer camp is more than just fun! It instills self-confidence through challenging activities, new experiences and relationship development, while learning leadership skills. An unforgettable summer camp adventure is a big part of how Scouts become 'Prepared for Life'!

Many families need financial support to send their Scout to camp. To assist those families, and make sure that all kids get a chance to have the needed summer camp experience, the alumni of Troop 321 Findlay, Ohio, created a Campership Fund in honor of their Scoutmaster, James Lorenz. The funds raised are incorporated as part of the council endowment fund. Each year, this endowment helps fund camperships for young men to attend Boy Scout Summer camp at Camp Berry. Currently, the total raised is $11,750 which will generate $562 in campership funds annually.

In 2016, 53 youths received camperships to attend a Black Swamp Area Council summer camp, the Lorenz Fund helped support this effort.

Additionally, all contributions of $1,000 or more will be recognized as James E. West Fellows. This recognition is given to individuals, foundations and corporations that make a gift of $1,000 or more to the Black Swamp Area Council, Boy Scouts of America Endowment Fund. Gifts can be made by check, installments via credit card or stock transfers.

The principal of your gift is retained forever and the annual income is used to benefit Scouts of the Black Swamp Area Council through camperships in perpetuity.
